

Adding Subordinate Clauses to Sentences

Using the sentence from yesterday's lesson, add some more information, using subordinate clauses and a variety of punctuation ( , - ; : ).

Key:

red – fronted adverbial (extra information – NOT an independent clause)

blue – independent clause (makes sense by itself)

green – subordinate clauses (2 – separated by commas)

E.g. At the time, he came from a wealthy, well-connected family, they supported his ambitions, of becoming a writer.

1. Now, choose 5 sentences from yesterday's Biography, on C.C Moore - the poet.
2. Include a 'fronted adverbial' for each sentence.
3. Then extend the sentence by adding a subordinate clause/or clauses (this depends on how much information you can think of – and want to include).
4. make sure you read your sentences back through to make sure they make sense.
